Subject: FW: your inquiry about BMJ 048424--->Enstrom Review Stands

Dear Dr. Loder,

In mid April I received an email request from BMJ to withdraw my attached review of BMJ MS BMJ-2018-048424. Unfortunately, I cannot find this email at the moment [April 18, 2019 email below was subsequently found after May 6, 2019]. I want to make clear that my review is to remain in your review system and is to be used as part of the final decision on this manuscript. I cannot determine if my review has been posted, because I do not have reviewer access at this link: https://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/bmj?URL_MASK=0052f33e3b4542c58d3643e1509b7043. Please confirm that my review has now been posted and has been used as part of the final decision on this manuscript. Also, since I have not received them, please send me the decision letter and all reviews for BMJ MS BMJ-2018-048424.

Thank you very much.

Dear Dr. Enstrom,

Recently, I asked you to review Manuscript ID BMJ-2018-048424, entitled "Air pollution and cause-specific risks and costs of hospital admissions." It has since become apparent that I will not need you to review at this time.

I hope you will be able to review other manuscripts in the near future.

Sincerely,
Dr. Elizabeth Loder

Dear Dr. Loder,

I have reformatted into Word format the journal pages that are part of my review BMJ 048424. I have attached a Word document that contains the entire review. Please upload it for me ASAP and confirm the upload.

Thank you very much.

As per your request, I attempted to upload my BMJ-2018-048424 Review PDF via the ScholarOne-manuscriptcentral links below. However, these links are for authors, not reviewers. Please send me a proper, accessible link for reviewers and I will do the upload. Thank you. JEE

It turns out that you send a pdf and not a word document, so we aren't able to upload it. Would you please go into your reviewer account and upload the review through our system? Alternatively, you could send us a Word document and then we can upload it for you.

Dear Dr. Loder,

A MAJOR misunderstanding has occurred and I request that it be corrected immediately. My January 25, 2019 email to Dr. Cook made clear that I submitted a signed nine-page Peer Review of Manuscript BMJ-2018-048424 and she acknowledged receiving it. Based on her February 25, 2019 email, I had assumed that Dr. Cook had posted my review on manuscriptcentral website and was using it as a official review while awaiting response from another reviewer. If you do not have access to my full email correspondence with Dr. Cook, I request that she share it with you. Please confirm that my reattached review has been added to Scholar One manuscriptcentral and that it will be used in the decision-making process for BMJ-2018-048424 as per BMJ policy.

Thank you very much.

I now see that you emailed a review to Dr. Cook but did not upload it through the Scholar One system. Do you wish for this review to be added to the system and available, with your name, to the authors and other people concerned with the paper? I'm afraid that is necessary if you wish the review to be considered in our decision-making process. Please let me know.

Dear Dr. Enstrom,

I write in response to your email to Dr. Cook, in which you requested information about the decision on BMJ 048424. Dr. Cook has moved to another section of the journal, so you may correspond with me about this matter.

As I understand matters, we did invite you to review this paper. The review invitation makes clear that we have an open review process, in which reviewers and authors are known to each other, and that reviews for papers that are accepted may be posted on our website.

It is my understanding that you completed a review for the paper but then did not wish it to be open. Please correct me if I am wrong about that.

In such cases we do not consider the review when making a decision about a paper, and the reviewer is not then privy to any additional information about the paper or its fate.

Dear Dr. Cook,

Please email me the BMJ editorial decision on BMJ-2018-048424, which I reviewed on January 25. I have examined <https://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/bmj>, but it does not show a decision. If there is still no decision, please explain the delay. I am making this request because of the serious scientific and ethical issues that I raised in my review.

Thank you very much.
